This includes any necessary updates in the main body of the document. In addition, the types of RF threats that are now present have changed so technology such as LTE needs to be taken into account. Consider latest test instrumentation and techniques. An editorial cleanup is required including the clarifications of the terms shall and should. Finally, several technical clarifications are required including but not limited to alternative methods where the communication systems or the reference CODEC are not available.
6. Identify the stakeholders (e.g., telecom, consumer, medical, environmental, etc.) likely to be directly impacted by the standard:	EMC test laboratories, EMC test equipment manufacturers (software designers), Office audio equipment manufacturers, Users of audio office equipment
7. This PINS revises a previous PINS submittal:	Note: A revised PINS is only required if the previously identified stakeholders have changed substantively (see item 6 on this form.).

8. Description of Contents of Standard: (Provide a one paragraph description, not to exceed 500 characters.)	This standard provides test methods and limits for assuring the radio frequency (RF) immunity of audio office equipment to general use transmitting portable electronic devices with transmitter power up to 8 watts.
